Thanks for the effort

I would like to express my appreciation for the excellent article by Dennis Gaub on the Three Forks School Districts' financial situation.

The details described are appalling to a taxpayer who is constantly being asked to approve new bond measures, and I don't even live in Three Forks.

In a world seemingly dominated by 30-second sound bites, reality TV, celebrity obsession, and similar fluff, it's reassuring to know real journalism is not entirely dead.

Dennis Gaub has done a valuable service to your readers with his well-researched, well-written article.
